

On or offline
Groups and individuals

- Coaching
- Assertiveness training
- Teaching and tutoring
- Non medical help for students
- Permaculture consultation
- Advocacy

“The best response to uncertain times, is to re-emphasise moving very positively into the future.

BA Hons Drama - 1st Class
MA Film & TV Production
MA Post 16 Teaching - Distinction
TEFL

Assertiveness Trainer

30 years

Coach

Institute of Leadership
Permaculture Association
Design Certificate
Apprenticeship

Non medical Helper for Neuro Diverse students

“That’s what I’ve decided to do. Please let me help you to do likewise, to overcome obstacles preventing you from reaching your personal, professional, or any other goals”. Angel Garden

Offers Coaching, Assertiveness training (30 years experience - updated for today). Tutoring and teaching includes TEFL, as well as some A level subjects. Non medical help refers to services provided to disabled students to help them navigate their courses and learning. Fully accredited. Permaculture designing can be for a land-based design as in a garden for example, but can also apply to other areas of life... please contact for more info. Last but not least, I have provided expert witness testimony about autism in a legal context.

SPECIAL LAUNCH OFFERS

To thank you for visiting the website and spreading the word there will be a reduced introductory offer session: also redeemable against future sessions.

As a second thank you, you’ll soon be able to download People Can’s first publication, a short e-book “Sector Disability” which begins to look at disability through permaculture (and vice versa).

* Permaculture arose in a land-based and food production context, seeking a form of permanent culture for growing. This in itself can be very useful to disabled people as lots of elements include space and work-saving design features.

* It’s more useful than that however: the principles also shift over to looking for permanent human culture, and that has to be kind.

* These non ideological principles, of working with nature, are increasingly and intentionally rooted in all my work.